HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Housing Authority Commission was established in 1941 pursuant to the State of California laws to transact business and to have powers as defined therein. It is regulated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The commission approves bids that are awarding for any work to be done in authority (e.g., painting, tree trimming, and landscape maintenance), and changes to all policies, lease agreements, and contracts.

The project, located at 350 C Street, was built during the 1940s and was known as Industrial Village. The City of South San Francisco purchased the project in 1955 and created the Housing Authority. The Housing Authority owns and manages one facility with 80 units in the C Street housing complex.

The Housing Authority is self-sustaining, with oversight from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The HUD conducts yearly audits. The City Council appoints seven members (two appointees shall be tenants) to the commission.

Meetings are held on the 2nd Monday of every month at Housing Authority, 350 C Street, at 6:00 p.m.
