ARREST: Human Trafficking of a Minor

On 12/02/2025, South San Francisco Police Detectives received a tip from a neighboring law enforcement agency that a 17-year-old female from the east coast, who had been reported missing "at risk", was likely being commercially sex trafficked in South San Francisco. Detectives went undercover and responded to an online posting which depicted the victim and advertised commercial sex services. Detectives were subsequently directed to a hotel on the 1300 block of Veterans Boulevard where they ultimately recovered the juvenile. Further investigation revealed the juvenile was being sex trafficked by a 23-year-old San Francisco resident, Liliana Mejia, who was also present at the hotel. Mejia was subsequently arrested for human trafficking of a minor and other related pimping and pandering charges. She was later booked into San Mateo County Jail without incident. The juvenile was taken into protective custody and was provided with services and resources. If you have any information regarding this investigation, please contact the South San Francisco Police Department Criminal Investigations Bureau at 650-877-8900.
